Through The Canal

What does the canal look like?
It looks like a lake, and a lock, with two projecting canals at either end. It reminds me of the days when, as a school boy, I studied physiology. The Panama Canal looks like the illustration of the human stomach with the alimentary canal and the duodenum attachment. The stomach part is Gatun Lake, the great artificial body of water bottled up in the interior of the isthmus where ocean going vessels will steam along for twenty-four miles, 85 feet above sea level.

Gatun Lake
Approaching as we did from the Atlantic side we will follow the canal, first to Gatun, by a channel five hundred feet wide at the bottom. Here a flight of three locks rises to the summit level of 85 feet. This brings you into Gatun Lake which is an artificial body of water formed by damming Chagres river. Through the 24 miles of this lake the channel will be from 1,000 to 500 feet in width. Boats will go ahead here at full speed. As the lake becomes settled and cleared of deposits and decayed vegetation I can foresee that this part of the journey will in the future prove very interesting. At present the lake is covered in places with moss and vegetation which have torn loose from the bottom and the dead palms, standing partly submerged, look ghastly in their solitude. Covering as it does, 161 square miles of land formerly covered by jungle and forest, and in some cases even towns, it is reasonable to suppose that as the waters kill the vegetation and loosen the bogs, timber and mosses, that the surface will become covered with all kinds of floating things. Even now there are vast patches of floating islands resting here and there upon the lake. But

DELIGHTFUL REUNION

At the home of Dr. R. W. Bicknell, of Canton, a delightful reunion was recently held. Dr. Erasmus E. Holt of Portland came by auto from Lewiston with his mother, C. O. Holt and wife were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Packard and children, Franklin and George Victor. There they met their sisters, Mrs. Nellie Sanborn of Franklin, Mass., and Mrs. Etta Glover of Canton. These four comprise the whole of this generation of the Holt family, now living. They are the sons and daughters of Erasmus Holt and Lucinda Packard Holt, to whom six children were born, all living to grow up. Mr. and Mrs. Holt resided during their early married life in Wells, where two children were born, Artemus T. Holt, who was employed for many years in the cotton at Hingham Junction, Mass., and who was instantly killed by a train at that place, and Mrs. Nellie Sanborn, the oldest now living, who resides at Franklin, Mass. From Wells Mr. Holt and family moved to a log cabin on the shore of Worthy Pond in Peru, where Charles Otto Holt, now a successful physician in Lewiston, was born. Here they resided while Mr. Holt made a homestead and built a farm house. In this house were born two daughters, Mrs. Etta Glover, who is the widow of Charles Glover of East Sumner and who resides with her daughter, Mrs. A. A. Glover of Canton, and Mrs. Emma Holt, who died several years ago, and the youngest, Dr. Erasmus Eugene Holt, an eminent oculist of Portland. The family made a trip during the day to their childhood home at Worthy Pond. Returning to the Bicknell home, a social time was enjoyed with many relatives and friends. Pictures were taken of the Holt family, also of the oldest generation now living of the Bicknell family, which comprised Mrs. C. O. Holt, Mrs. Etta Bicknell and James W. Bicknell, children of the late Simon Bicknell and Avira Hayford Bicknell, of Canton. Dr. Bicknell then took a snapshot of the whole party assembled, including Dr. Holt, Dr. and Mrs. C. O. Holt, Mrs. Sanborn, Mrs. Glover, and daughter, Miss Mahelle Glover, Miss Etta Bicknell, Mr. and Mrs. Frank E. Keefe, the Misses Winfield, Thelma and Charlotte Bicknell and Master Equia Bicknell, grand children of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Bicknell, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bicknell, Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Bicknell and two children, Mr. and Mrs. J. Bicknell and daughter, Lucille, Mrs. Alice H. Nulty, William Wentworth and Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Hutchins.

WILLIAM GILL

The community was shocked Thursday morning, June 19, when word was received that Mr. Will Gill had passed away at Dr. King's hospital in Portland where he underwent a serious operation for appendicitis Saturday morning. Although it proved a serious case, most favorable reports were received and the physicians expected a rapid recovery. Thursday morning he passed quietly away, very suddenly.

Mr. Gill was born in Gilead and about thirty years ago and at the age of eighteen entered the employ of Woodbury and Portland. For twenty years he had been in the home of Mr. Portland and was a faithful employee, always courteous and obliging. He had a wide circle of friends.

Funeral services were held at the Gilead home and friends from the village attended. The floral tributes were abundant and beautiful. Much sympathy was expressed for the bereaved ones.

True benevolence is to love all men, to compensate injury with justice, and kindness with kindness.—Confucius.

G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT 47th Annual at Lewiston, June 17 and 18

There was a very large attendance at the closing meeting of the department encampment of the G. A. R., and every officer elected was elected by acclamation, the convention being very harmonious and there being no opposition to any of the candidates. The meeting was presided over by Department Commander John F. Lamb of Ramford Falls and seated on the platform were many of the past department commanders and other department officers, the stage presenting a handsome appearance with its decorations of old army uniforms, while in the rear of the stage hung an immense American flag, 36 by 15 feet, besides a number of other smaller flags and the department banner.

The convention was called to order at 9:30, prayer being offered by Rev. George R. Palmer of Portland, who is the department chaplain. Several committees made their reports which were accepted and resolutions on the death of Past Department Commander John W. Webster and Gen. Joshua L. Chamberlain were adopted. A motion to change the month of meeting of the department was lost. JULY 2 IS BETHEL'S ROAD DAY

Much Interest Is Being Manifested

Bethel is surely going to have a Good Roads day, all due to that wizard of energy, Prof. W. R. Chapman. For a thought to him means execution.

At a meeting held Saturday night it was decided that the three sections of the town should work under their commissioner on a piece of road in their own district.

The village people will expend their energies on the upper end of Church street and it is hoped that every man and boy will turn out and make Thursday, July 2, a day long to be remembered. Do not wait for an invitation but turn out and "boost". Everybody who has a double or a single team and is willing to give his services for the day are requested to notify H. M. Farwell or F. B. Merrill. Six two horse teams have been pledged and we want at least ten more. There will be a chance for everyone to work and anyone who cannot join the workers can send their contributions of money to Mr. G. L. Thurston.

The people in the other districts will please give their names to their road commissioner who will locate the road to be worked upon.

Now don't forget the date and let us all get together and show that there is some public spirit left in Bethel.

WALTER F. LAWRENCE

Bethel people were again saddened last Sunday by the sudden death of Walter F. Lawrence at the home of his wife's mother, Mrs. Ellen A. Merrill. Walter, or "Buster", as he was formerly called, was born in Bethel January 11, 1877, the son of George T. and Johanna Lawrence, and spent his boyhood in Bethel. As a small boy he delighted in "making things" and had a natural genius as a machinist. Only two years ago he made a complete automobile, starting with the rough iron. The last years of his life have been spent in Portland, six years with Smith and Langmaid, manufacturers of marine engines, and the last year and a half with the Central Garage as expert gas engineer.

About the middle of May he was stricken with leukemia and obliged to give up work. On June 3 he came to his last gasp and at first he rallied. But the disease had gone too far and Friday he was obliged to take his last breath. He died at 10:30 A. M. at the home of his mother, where he had a hemorrhage of the stomach from which he did not recover. On December 17, 1903, he married a daughter of Charles C. and Ellen A. Merrill, by whom he was tenderly and for during his illness. One son, Harold, blessed their married life. Besides his wife and son, he is survived by his mother, a brother and a sister to whom the sympathy of the community is extended in this dark bereavement.

BOY SCOUTS ENCAMPMENT

The Boy Scouts of the congregation of church had their first encampment last week, from Monday to Thursday. The party consisted of Rev. W. T. Curtis, Scoutmaster, Eugene and Louis Van Den Rockhoven, Harold Bartlett, Robert Hanson, Lawrence Kimball, Percy Flint and Archie Young.

They were invited by Mr. H. N. Upson to camp at his trout pond under Captain's Mountain, in Mason.

Transportation was furnished by two of the troop committee, Mr. A. Van Den Rockhoven and Mr. H. C. Rowe, who took the party in their autos as far as the "Optics".

The place of encampment is an ideal one. There are mountains to climb, trout fishing, swimming and some mosquito.

The ample tent was augmented by a small tent in the ground, tent, frog, and potatoes, eggs and cream cooked at the campfire and best of all a good stock of most delicious candy, made and presented by Mrs. Upson.

Mr. Upson accompanied us on the mountain trip, up Pickett's Peak, across to Main's Mountain and thence down to camp. We took this Wednesday, a beautiful day and the views were splendid.

John Van was high line on pond trout, catching half a dozen trout, and Lawrence Kimball caught the most brook trout. Louis also won the hundred yard dash from the campfire to the tent.

A picnic dinner was served at noon, with baked beans and coffee furnished by the host Grange.

June 17, some of our members attended the regular meeting of New Century Panama, held at Ebb Hall, Hallowbury. A social dance was held at the Grange Hall Saturday evening with a good attendance. Music by Harlow, Smith and George Hall. Ice cream was on sale at intermission. There will be no more dances at the hall until August, as July is the Grange memorial month.

The host house, while the hosts were still small Thursday morning. The party was a clear success.

The encampment was a bowling and a good one, for each team has its animal and our animal is the wolf; and whenever there was lack of other occupation or we wished to have a morale at a distance we howled right merrily.

The days sped all too quickly and it was with many regrets that we struck our tent Thursday noon and prepared to connect with the auto.

With cheer after cheer for the trip, and the hope of many more happy campouts on the same spot, we returned to Bethel browner and bigger and better boys.

THE HOME CIRCLE.

Pleasant Reveries—A Column

Circle at Evening Tide.

People with too much imagination climb over them.—S. Weir Mitchell.

SYSTEM IN HOUSEWORK

There never was a time when there was so much reliable, useful information within easy reach of housekeepers as there is today. But keeping house is not a matter of reading the experiences of thousands of others who have learned how to do certain things in the best way; it is learning how to make their experience fit your needs.

We do not need more recipe books nor more directions for work; what women want is to be told how to do what must be done most easily.

So few can discern between the needful and the needless and this discernment is what makes or saves toil.

I have watched two women use the same recipe for a simple cake; by the time one had her batter in the oven she had one large and two small bowls, a fork, several large and small spoons and two cups soiled. The baking table, her apron and the floor were liberally bespattered with flour and she was exhausted. The second woman put all the articles she needed on a tray, so that she made but one trip from her pantry to her table. She crowded her batter and sugar in the mixing bowl and added her egg-yolks.
The whites of the eggs she whipped on a platter and sifted her flour into her batter after it was measured in the same cup she had used for her batter and sugar. When she finished she had only three or four utensils to wash and had all the signs of her baking out of sight by the time her cake was done.

The thing is to know how to do it; the trouble about housework lies in ignorance, not in labor.

To illustrate this, remember the different methods mentioned in combining the simplest ingredients in cooking. Beat the eggs says the recipe. Rightly done this beating operation encloses air in the articles beaten.
Stir in the flour is the next direction; by this a circular motion, widening from the center outward, is meant.
Fold in the whipped eggs or cream, indicates that the air already inclosed in the beaten ingredients must not be permitted to escape by harsh handling, so the mixture is cut apart and folded together gently until completely incorporated. If you really know the meaning of the terms you use to describe your daily work, if you real-

TRUE SPIRIT OF THE HOME

Serenity and Wisdom of Wife and Mother Dew and Sunshine to Growing Souls

Wherever the great and beautiful work of art, a home, had come into being, the wife and mother has had her paramount existence in that home, though her interests and activities have not necessarily been limited to its sphere. But husband and children have been able to count on her in the home as they could count on the fire on the hearth, the cool shade under the tree, the water in the well, the bread in the sacrament. Thus upon husband and children is bestowed the experience which a great poet gained from his mother. "All became to her a wreath!" A wreath where every day's toil and holiday's joy, hours of labor and moments of rest, were leaf and blossom and ribbon. The wise educator is never one who is "educating" from morning to night. She is one who, unconsciously to the children, brings to them the chief satisfaction and creates the supreme conditions for their growth. Primarily she is the one who, through the serenity and wisdom of her own nature, is dew and sunshine to growing souls. She is one who understands how to demand in just measure, and to give at the right moment. She is one whose desire is law, whose smile is regard, whose disapproval is panishment, whose caress is benediction.

quite a while," says Arthur Baxton, shoemaker, of Mill Hill, Bethel. "I suffered from pains across the small of my back and had dizzy spells. A friend had a short time. It is a pleasure for me to confirm what I said about Doan's Kidney Pills some years ago when I recommended them."

Recuperative Effect
considered with reference to its recuperative effect, there is not so much good in the ordinary vacation as there is in a single bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. The latter costs $1; the former—well, that depends; how much did yours cost last year?

Hood's Sarsaparilla refreshes the tired blood, sharpens the dulled appetite, restores the lost courage.

Night view of South Gardens and main entrance to the Panama-Pacific International Exposition at San Francisco in 1915. Dominating the scene at the left of the picture is the Tower of Jewels, rising some 435 feet into the air, its architectural lines marked with thousands of glittering crystals of many colors and its whole surface softly glowing with the reflected light from the arcs which are hidden from the eye by the down the facade, at about the center of the picture, may be seen the two slender towers which guard the entrance to the Court of Palms and directly in front of the Tower of Jewels is A. G. B. Calder's "Fountain of Energy." In the background at the extreme left may be seen the top of the triumphal Arch of the Rising Sun surmounted by the group "The Nations of the East."
